To stay competitive, companies have learned to respond quickly to change. To capitalize on technology. To contain expenses while enhancing productivity. And, you've no doubt looked for better solutions for managing one of your highest expenses and most valuable resources: your staff.

Native Staffing has partnered with clients to give them a wealth of competitive advantages generated from implementing a variety of staffing strategies. The philosophies and strategies we have developed have raised the standard in our industry.

If you're seeking proven ways to position your company now and for the future, Native Staffing can be your partner in implementing the staffing strategies to help you get there.

Can another firm truly grasp the technical complexities of your firm? That's the heart and soul of our business.

Native Staffing can help you through the peaks and valleys of business cycles with top-notch IT temporaries, so you can capitalize on sudden opportunities, while avoiding the hire-and-fire cycle.

Native Staffing can take on much of the burden and risk of recruitment, training, severance, benefits and other staff-associated tasks and overhead. And that frees your corporate resources to focus on your business.

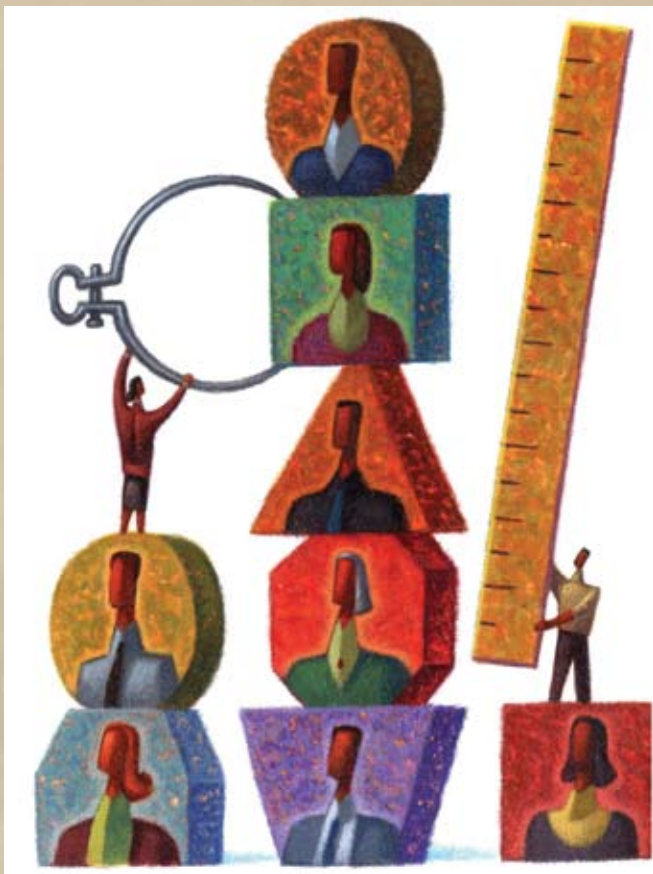

We provide multiple options that create flexibility. You can "try" a prospective employee before you "buy". Augment your permanent core work force on a short- or long-term basis. Lower your fixed costs. Look to us for a "turnkey" solution for staffing an entire program or business unit.

We can save you money with "just in time" employees to even out the business cycle. We can give you a market advantage with uniquely qualified people to solve complex technical problems or manage special projects. We can increase your flexibility, allowing you to respond quickly to changing market demands. We can free up your resources to concentrate on issues other than staffing, because we work hard to make working with us easy.

Bottom Line? We enhance your human resource "balance sheet." And everything else will follow.

Native Staffing is a minority owned IT staffing company with a personalized touch. We develop trust and partnerships with our clients with an unwavering commitment to address the issues of your business, and with full-service client support. Working with Native Staffing is a decision you can feel confident about, because of the personal guarantee that comes straight from the top, and is exemplified by every individual you'll work with at Native Staffing.
